“At first, Hitler favored emigration as a solution to what he called “the Jewish problem.”

“Even under . . . horrible conditions, the Jews hung on. Some formed resistance organizations within the ghettos. They also struggled to keep their traditions.”

“The ‘Final Solution’ reached its last stage in 1942. At that time, the Nazis built extermination camps equipped with huge gas chambers that could kill as many as 6,000 human beings in a day.

“Never shall I forget the little faces of the children, whose bodies I saw turned into wreaths of smoke beneath a silent blue sky. . . . Never shall I forget those moments which murdered my God and my soul and turned my dreams to dust.” Elie Wiesel
